Monumental Bass

Preparations for this summer's concerts started already earlier this year when D.A.D went to Brazil. One morning Stig went up early and watched the sunrise behind the giant statue of Jesus, and he had a vision.

The vision was two-fold: a giant new two-string bass, modelled after the statue, with the big Jesus' arm extending around the neck of the musician, and the instrument making its debut on the Rock Cruise to Norway - a country known for strong Christian groups and rocking out.

We are happy to announce that the order has been officially placed with the usual supplier, Guitarværkstedet. There is some concern though, because it seems that the shop has had to close down and move to a larger building to prepare for this huge project!

D.A.D is confident that the holy bass will be ready in time, "With God on Our Side", Jesper says, "we will make it."
